HISTORY OF THE FESTIVAL

The Ischia Film Festival was founded in 2003 within the project "Cinema and Territory", aimed to promote the cultural and landscape identity of the territories through cinematographic works.

The competition has allowed the general public to see feature films and documentaries that have opened a window on the world, rewarding those narratives that, more than others, have managed to bring out the strength of the places where they were shot.

The Festival has reached its twentieth edition, with the promise of letting people experience the emotions of cinematographic art that take shape in the spectacular locations of Ischia, where once again, that special bond between Cinema and territory is expressed.

THE ARAGONESE CASTLE

Visit and exclusive film cocktail party

A stone bridge crosses a stretch of sea until it leads you to a small, rocky island, where the Aragonese Castle juts out from the horizon: a breathtaking view that characterises the Ischia Film Festival. Magic and elegance are in the air in this setting.

The Castle is the heart of the event, and thanks to the experience of Treccani, you can make the most of it in an exclusive way with:

FILM COCKTAIL PARTY

Access to the Film cocktail party, the encounter reserved for guests of the Festival, the press and film professionals, which takes place on the terrace at sunset, with a view of the enchanting panorama of the island.

EXCLUSIVE VISITS

The exclusive visit, a guided tour in the company of the Treccani expert to discover the Aragonese Castle and its most fascinating spaces, such as the Cathedral of the Assumption, the Piazzale delle Armi, the Casa del Sole or the Terrace of Olives.

LA MORTELLA GARDENS

The visit that defies expectations

Treccani takes you beyond the Ischia Film Festival experience to let you discover another of the island's wonders: the La Mortella Gardens

La Mortella is a Mediterranean and subtropical garden, considered among the most beautiful in Europe, created in 1956 by Susan Walton and her husband, the famous English composer Sir William Walton, designed by landscape architect Russell Page. A place born with the aim of inspiring and promoting the love for music, which is still at the centre of the activities of the Gardens.

The exclusive visit to the La Mortella Gardens will take you into the heart of a unique story. You will discover it, admiring the beauty of the place with its immense variety of trees and plants, also coming from different parts of the world, and listening to anecdotes and stories from experts certified by Treccani.

Lunch will be served at the "Tea House"

NEGOMBO THERMAL SPA PARK

A little adventure in the green

The Bay of San Montano is a corner of pure beauty nestled between Mount Vico and the Zario promontory. From this cove extends an immense green area that houses Negombo Park: one of the most precious jewels of Ischia, where nature, art and well-being blend with the local culture.

Treccani will guide you in the discovery of an enchanting place, in the full spirit of the Ischia Film Festival.

A one-of-a-kind visit, during which you can immerse yourself in a garden with rare plants, in evocative thermal pools and in the archaeological site of the park, through a path dotted with works of contemporary art that will astonish you.

Treccani guests will be given access to the "Adria Terrace", a reserved area overlooking the bay. Aperitifs and lunch will be served at the site's restaurant "Casa Colonica".
